Paul J. McNulty, United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Virginia, announced that Quincy Deward Williams, age 30, of Richmond, Virginia, was sentenced today to 12 months and one day of imprisonment based on his conviction for bribery. The sentence was imposed by United States District Judge Henry E. Hudson. Williams pled guilty to federal charges stemming from his receipt of a bribe in his capacity as a Correctional Officer at the Federal Correctional Institute in Petersburg, Virginia.

Williams was indicted by a federal grand jury in January 2004. The indictment alleged that Williams accepted a $1,000.00 payment in exchange for his agreement to alter records affecting the release date of a federal inmate and that he also agreed to alter inmate records in exchange for sexual relations from women outside the prison.

Also announcing the sentence are Donald W. Thompson, Special-Agent-In-Charge, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Richmond Resident Office; and Inspector General Glenn A. Fine, Office of the Inspector General, Department of Justice.

The case was investigated by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and prosecuted by Assistant United States Attorney Laura C. Marshall.
